* Versatile • PHB-2024 194
You gain an Origin feat of your choice.

* Languages • PHB-2024 37
Your character knows at least three languages: Common plus two languages you roll or choose from the Standard Languages table. Knowledge of a language means your character can communicate in it, read it, and write it.

* Ability Score Increases • PHB-2024
When determining your character's ability scores, increase one score by 2 and a different one by 1, or increase three scores by 1.

| Increase two scores (+2 / +1) •
Increase one scores by 2 and a different score by 1.

=== FEATS ===

* Tough • PHB-2024 202
When you take this feat, your HP maximum increases by 2. Whenever you gain a character level thereafter, your HP maximum increases an additional 2 HP.

* Healer • PHB-2024 201
Battle Medic. As a Utilize action, you can expend one use of a Healer's Kit to tend to a creature within 5 feet of yourself. That creature can expend one of its HP Dice, and you then roll that die. The creature regains a number of HP equal to the roll +2.

Healing Rerolls. Whenever you roll a die to determine the number of HP you restore with a spell or with this feat's Battle Medic benefit, you can reroll the die if it rolls a 1, and you must use the new roll.

| Battle Medic: 1 Action

CHARACTER APPEARANCE

=== Organizations ===

The Vigilant Order of the Silver Gauntlet (Amn): This order serves Helm, the god of watchfulness and protection, and is dedicated to guarding the innocent and vigilant protection of the weak and helpless. A War cleric of this order would be a stout defender, prioritizing the safety of others and standing as a bulwark against danger.

PERSONALITY TRAITS

P SEEKING PURPOSE - I see helping others as my mission in life, and I am always looking for ways to step in and

IDEALS

I fight for those who cannot fight for themselves.

BONDS

Prone to Burnout – Advocates' perfectionism and reserve leave them with few options for letting off steam.

FLAWS

I still remember the day I made the choice. It was the day I lost them—my siblings, my closest companions in this world. We had grown up together, training in the ways of the sword, learning the call of duty, always there for each other. They were the first ones to wear the silver sigil of the city guard, standing proud and strong, protecting the walls of our home. But when the barbarian hordes descended, their lives were snuffed out in an instant. It wasn't the bloodshed that broke me. It was the helplessness. The feeling that I could've done more, that I wasn't there when they needed me most.

The city, once peaceful and full of life, had fallen into chaos. The walls were breached, and the cries of the innocent echoed in the streets. I stood there, watching as my siblings fell, and something inside me hardened. From that moment on, I knew my life had a new purpose. I wasn't just a warrior or a knight—I was a defender, a shield for those who couldn't defend themselves. And I would never let another person feel the weight of helplessness that I felt that day.

The Order of the Silver Gauntlet became my refuge. I sought them out with determination, pledging myself to their cause with the conviction of a soul lost and found. Their ideals spoke to me deeply. They were an Order dedicated to a single, unyielding truth: Protect the innocent. Stand between them and the storm. To be a knight of the Silver Gauntlet was to bear the weight of the world on your shoulders and stand firm against its crushing force. And I embraced it, not out of a desire for glory, but for the need to make the world safer, one battle at a time.

In battle, I don't fight for victory or honor—I fight for those who can't stand up for themselves. My faith in the divine strengthens my resolve, making me a force not just of strength, but of purpose. I wield my power on the battlefield, not to slay, but to protect. To shield the weak. To be a guiding
